

WHAT SKILLS CAN YOU DEVELOP DURING YOUR DPHIL?

The following abilities have been named by doctoral graduates as examples of the skills they developed during the degree and continue to use.

- thinking systematically/ analytically
- dealing with complex questions
- doing multi-disciplinary work
- communicating with the public
- connecting with foreign colleagues
- developing cultural understanding
- negotiating with business or other external partners
- project administration
- management and leadership

1. Review each ability listed above and note below your experience of as many of these as you can.

2. What other abilities have you developed? Or do you want to develop?